Profile of Patrick Lambe

Patrick Lambe is a world-renowned knowledge organization and taxonomy expert with a specialization in knowledge organization systems to enable the conduct of science. He is a consultant, writer and researcher, based in Singapore, and with projects in the USA, Europe, Middle East, Asia and Australia.

In the field of taxonomies for R&D he has worked since 2009 with the National Science Foundation (Division of Science Resource Statistics and NCSES) to help them develop a framework, strategy and implementation framework for science classifications and taxonomy management, and with Unilever Research helping them to develop a taxonomy strategy and framework.

He is the author of Organising Knowledge: Taxonomies, Knowledge and Organisation Effectiveness (Oxford, 2007), an Adjunct Professor in knowledge management at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University, Visiting Professor in the Knowledge and Innovation Management PhD programme at Bangkok University, 2-term past President of the Information and Knowledge Management Society and a member of the editorial advisory boards of the top-ranked Journal of Knowledge Management, and of Knowledge Management For Development Journal, and Journal of Entrepreneurship, Management and Innovation. His 2011 paper on "The Unacknowledged Parentage of Knowledge Management" won a Highly Commended Award in the Emerald Literati Network Awards for Excellence 2012. Patrick is also a member of the AIIM KM Standards Committee (KM for Organizations). He ius currently working on a book on Knowledge Auditing and Knowledge Mapping.